

Life-Size Chutes and Ladders®

Materials: Toy hoops, colored matt tiles, orange game cones

Set-up: Place the colored matt tiles on the floor or ground in an S-shape to form a life-size gameboard. You can make the boards as large as you like. Add the toy hoops at various locations around the board. Place orange cones at the beginning and the end of the gameboard. Use a die to move through the game.

Game Instructions: Each player rolls a die and the one with the highest number goes first. Players take turns rolling a die and physically moving the number of locations on the life-size gameboard. If a player lands in a hoop, he must go back to the previous hoop. The first player to reach the final square is the winner!

Adaptations:

- Roll a die by using List-O-Matic on the Accent® with Empower®
- Ask Alexa by saying "Alexa, roll a die."
- Use high-contrast colored hoops and squares to make them easier to see
- Line the gameboard with more orange cones to more clearly mark the boundaries of the path
- Players in wheelchairs can move beside the path
